

SciShops.eu was a Horizon 2020 project aimed at promoting the growth of community-based participatory research and Science Shops across Europe. The project explored how different types of research organisations, such as universities, research institutes, companies and non-profit organisations can develop sustainable Science Shops. The project ran from September 2017 to February 2020 and involved 18 partner organisations from 13 European countries.

Ten new Science Shops were established during the project alongside resources, tools and training to support new Science Shops. Profiles of the Science Shops can be found at <https://www.scishops.eu/about/new-scishops/>
